Reported Gold Strike Confirmed!

Authentic Word Received that Gold Strike on Nahlin River, Head of Taku, Is Genuine---Men Rocking Out $20 to $40 Per Day

Gold, the precious metal, the quantities has been struck within wherewith for which we are all seeking so steadily, lying there as nature left it, waiting for you or for me to pick it up, such is the story that comes from the head waters of the Nahlin, over hill and valley, and along the icy stretches of the rivers, to startle us out of the ruts of everyday life into the thought that possibly fortune is there waiting for us.

The news reached this region a couple of weeks ago. At first but a rumor, then a letter from a source that is looked upon as reliable, and now, as time has had an opportunity to verify the first reports, comes the information from half a dozen sources that gold in paying quantities has been struck within 300 miles of this place:

The report states that the gold, in coarse flakes, is running better than five cents to the pan; a statement that may not convey much of an idea to the uninitiated, but which brings home to the old miner the fact that a man working with a rocker, the crudest, slowest method of extracting the yellow metal, can produce $20.00 to $40.00 in a day, and these same men know that the probabilities that the find is a large deposit are much greater when the pay streak carries such values as these than when the ground is immensely rich in some spots and absolutely barren in others, since as a rule comparatively low values are distributed over a greater area.

Old miners who have spent their days looking for such diggings as these are stirred to reminiscence by the news, and tell of pans running up into the hundreds in just such ground as this, when a "pocket" is struck. "Uncle" John Finlayson has probably had the greatest experience of any man in the district in the search for gold in the 92 years of his life, and his eyes flash as he tells of the banner pan he handled in the Cassiar, not so very far from where the present strike has been made; when he took out 65 ounces of gold in one panfull. And in all probability just such pockets are to be found in the new district.

Where is this new district? If you have a map of the northern end of British Columbia you can find it without much trouble. Follow along the western boundary of the province after salt water is left until you come to the Stikine river, the only navigable stream flowing down from the uplands of British Columbia through Alaska, to the sea. Turning inland, follow along its course past points made historic during the Klondike rush of 12 years ago, to the head of navigation, Telegraph Creek. From there you will see a little dotted line running in a general northerly direction—the famous Teslin trail, which was constructed by the dominion government at a cost of over a hundred thousand dollars. Follow along this dotted line for a short 90 miles 'till Nahlin telegraph station on the Vancouver to Dawson government telegraph line is reached, whence comes the news of the present strike. Here the trail is left, and the remainder of the trip, in the neighborhood of twenty-five miles, is made down the Nahlin river, and thus the objective place on the map is reached.

The next question of course is how to get to this new Eldorado. This is easy enough if you go at it right. There is only one real way, by steamer from the Sound country to Wrangell, Alaska, thence up the Stikine River by river steamer as far as Telegraph Creek, from there along the government trail to Nahlin telegraph station, and then down the river by boat or raft to the scene of the strike. A journey consuming not to exceed fourteen to sixteen days in all. This estimate of the time on the trip is conservative, as there are men here in Wrangell who have accomplished it in much less.

As far as an outfit is concerned for people entering the country, there is nobody anywhere else as competent to say what you should take in as the merchants living here. For years they have been in the business of outfitting people for just such trips as this; and besides, some of them have spent years in that very country, thus having the necessary knowledge at first hand, and from that experience they are able to tell the prospective miner what not to take on the trip.

Here then is the proposition boiled down into a few words: A placer strike has been made, probably the last on the American continent that will occur in your time or mine, it is located where it is comparatively easy of access, where it doesn't take a fortune to get action and where the country is of such a nature, from the standpoint of geological formation, that the find is wide and the pay sure. Then the location is such that a man may take a run into the country without big preparation, see for himself with small outlay of time and capital; and if he is satisfied with the outlook have his outfit sent in.

There it is, if you are interested, get busy.

A DASTARDLY OUTRAGE

The wrecking of the printing plant of the Daily Record at Juneau Monday morning of this week is an outrage against the decency of the Capital City, to say nothing of the implied threat against free speech and a free press. Although differences of opinion, at times more bitter probably than was really necessary, have arisen, still up to this time we have been free from such outbreaks of lawlessness as have made the mining camps of the west an insult to the people of the country. If this outrage can be traced to this same element, the quicker they are driven out of the country the better. If, on the other hand, the work was done by the hired men of the political clique the Record has been opposing then it is up to the authorities to see that both principals and those associated with them be made to pay the penalty.

Alaska packers have made preparations for putting up the largest salmon pack ever handled in one season in the north. Not only every cannery in Alaska already built will be operated, but three new plants will be constructed and operated this season. The salmon fisheries of Alaska which last year brought to the Pacific coast approximately $12,800,000, are expected to bring closer to $15,000,000 this year.

The cannerymen, besides expecting the pack to be the largest, count on higher prices.

Alaska is a large territory; government officials give the area as 590,884 square miles. The coast line, including that of the islands, has an estimated length of 26,364 miles. The United States coast line on the Atlantic, the Pacific and the Gulf is less than one-fifth that of Alaska, being 4,951 miles.

"How many of you boys," asked the Sundayschool superintendent, "can bring two other boys next Sunday?"

There was no response until a new recruit raised his hand hesitatingly:

"Well, William?"

"I can't bring two, but there's one little feller I can lick, and I'll do my damndest to bring him."

HAPPENINGS of INTEREST IN THE BUSY NORTH

Cordovans are planning to burn wood to head off the coal combine.

Bishop Rowe claims to have mushed 22,100 miles over Alaska tundras last year and that's going some.

It is estimated that the Iditarod will have a population of 10,000 by fall.

Steamship men state that freight rates to Southeastern Alaska are fixed for the season.

Herman Tolstoi, a resident of Cordova paid $19.50 into court for refusing to answer the questions of the census enumerator.

Leroy Tozier, of Fairbanks, has a boom on for Wickersham's job. It is reported that he will seek the Republican nomination.

Clark Davis, of the Alaska Petroleum and Coal company, tells the people of Cordova that his company will have coal on the market by fall.

The Japanese sealing schooners Saikai Maru and Kinzie Maru, forfeited to the U. S. government for poaching, will be sold at Unalaska on April 22.

Rev. Axel E. Karlson, Swedish missionary stationed at Unalaska, and postmaster at that place, died at St. Michael on January 15, of appendicitis.

Nels Adams and Scotty Curran, keepers of the Eldred Rock light-house in Lynn canal, were drowned last week by the capsizing of a rowboat.

Census enumerator Snow has just completed his work in the Iditarod country and gives the population of the various camps as follows: Iditarod, 1,200; Innoko, 800; Diskakeet, 150; Tootna, 500.

The 16th United States infantry has received orders to relieve the 22nd infantry now stationed at the Alaskan posts. The order makes the change effective June 16. The 22nd infantry will be sent to a Texas post.

One Katalla company purposed to place the burden of proving title to the coal lands on the government. It has complied with the law, received its final receipts and assumes that it holds title to the claims filed upon and intends to go ahead and mine the coal.

O. G. Labaree, president of the Alaska Northern Railway, announced recently that, beginning May 1, his company would give a daily train service between Seward and Kern creek, a distance of 71 miles. The trains will connect with boats for points on Cook inlet and on the Susitna river.

Simply Smiles

The little daughter of a clergyman stubbed her toe and said "Darn!"

"I'll give you ten cents," said her father, "if you'll never say that word again."

A few days afterward she came to him and said:

"Papa, I've got a word worth half a dollar."

A reputable citizen had left four umbrellas to be repaired. At noon he had luncheon in a restaurant, and as he was departing absent-mindedly started to take an umbrella from a hook near his hat.

"That's mine, sir," said a woman at the next table.

He apologized and went out. When he was going home in a street car with his four repaired umbrellas, the woman he had seen in the restaurant got in. She glanced from him to his umbrellas and said:

"I see you had a good day."

SALE OF TIMBER. Ketchikan, Alaska, April 9, 1910. Sealed bids marked outside "Bid Timber Sale Application, April 9, 1910, Tongass," and addressed to the Forest Supervisor, Ketchikan, Alaska, will be received up to and including the 16th day of May, 1910, for all or any part of the live timber marked or otherwise designated for cutting by the Forest officer, and available for steam logging on an approximate area of 45 acres situated on the east and west shores of Kadakes Bay, Kuiu Island, and within the Tongass National Forest, Alaska, estimated to be 500,000 feet B. M. of green spruce saw timber, more or less. No bid of less than one ($1.00) dollar per thousand feet B. M. will be considered, and a deposit of $100.00 must be sent to W. A. Langille, Special Fiscal Agent, Forest Service, Ketchikan, Alaska, for each bid submitted to the Supervisor. Timber upon valid claims is exempted from sale. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. For further information and regulations governing sales, address the Forest Supervisor, Ketchikan, Alaska.

Spring Sarsaparilla

Price, large bottle, 100 full doses $1.00—and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year.

Nyal's Spring Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements.

A Pretty Condition

An illustration of the brand of justice which this region has been subjected to was shown at the district court last week, when on the motion of the district attorney the case against Charley Roos was dismissed and he was allowed to go his way, after having been detained for months. At the time that Roos was remanded to jail to await the convening of the grand jury, this paper made the statement that he would never be convicted of the charge on which he was held, and the action of the upper court demonstrates the truth of our contention, and at the same time shows how utterly incapable is the man who has been on the commissioner's bench at this place.

Since the coming here of Lowe, in the neighborhood of half-a-dozen men have been bound over to the grand juries, and one—poor old "Uncle" John Beardsell—has been convicted, and he plead guilty. A fine record, isn't it?

Chester Worthington has been appointed native policeman at Petersburg.

Capt. O'Brien has left the employ of the Pacific Coast Co., and C. H. White has been placed in command of the City of Seattle.

"Chips" Cole was a passenger south on the Humboldt for Prince Rupert. He will spend the summer either at that place or at Stewart, the new town at the head of Portland canal.

The Wrangell contingent on the grand jury returned from Ketchikan on yesterday's Jefferson.

The Dolphin will take the Jefferson's run after this trip, while the latter boat is treated to a new coat of paint.

That old pipe of yours is fierce, better get a new one from Pat's.

The steamer Georgia struck a rock near the wrecked steamer Yucatan, Monday morning, and it was with the utmost difficulty that she was kept from sinking by the wrecking steamer Santa Crus. The City of Seattle took off her passengers and mail.

Washing and ironing, pressing, cleaning and plain sewing at Mrs. Wm. Lewis'.

Resigns From Fire Company

At the regular meeting of Alert Fire Co., No. 1, held Wednesday April 15, 1910, A. V. R. Snyder tendered his resignation as a member of the company and a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Snyder for his loyal support of the company and the interest manifested ever since its organization. It will be remembered that Mr. Snyder was one of the charter members of this company, and it was with regret that the news of his departure from Wrangell was received by the members, as he was always one of the first to respond to a call. Our best wishes go with him.

By order of Alert Fire Co.,

OLE JOHNSON, secretary.

John Beardsell was given two months in the local jail on the charge of giving liquor to a native. Kuiu Charley's case was thrown out.

The Humboldt took south 44 boxes of salmon from this place. The price of fish continues fairly good. The Seattle took down a small consignment of halibut.

Court Commissioner Snyder has resigned to take effect May 1.

Mrs. Tom Case, who was visiting friends and relatives at Ketchikan, made the trip over from that place to Kasaan on the City of Seattle, and will spend some time visiting with relatives there.

Reports reach this place that by the overturning of a lighted lamp, a little child was burned to death at Petersburg recently.

Father Sweere will conduct services at the Catholic Church Sunday, April 17. Mass at 8 and 11 a.m.

A Swede entered a post office in the Northwest and inquired: "Bane any letters for me today?" "What name, please?" "Ay tank de name is on the letter."
